

Xyztec at EuWoRel Berlin

2019年10月3日

This week, Xyztec was at EuWoRel at Fraunhofer-Forum Berlin to present improvements in the comprehensiveness and efficiency of experimental reliability tests and methods for characterizing the physics of bond failure.

7th 'European Expert Workshop on Reliability of Electronics and Smart Systems'

Since 2013, EuWoRel is the annual forum for addressing the concerns of reliability, robustness, and functional safety of new products and technologies in the field of electronics and smart systems. Key experts from research institutes and the industry are coming together to further research requirements on reliability methodology clearly visible, not only to the electronics and smart systems community but also to the representatives of funding gencies at national and European levels.
